Sale of The United Church of Canada Bamfield, B.C. Property

Mary May gave updated information on the sale and the physical layout of the property. She noted that they have received another offer of $1 million. Mary May's advice to the Interim Sub Executive is to delay on the sale of the property until more information can be gathered.

Bruce Gregersen's recommendation is to decline the offer and to take no further action on the sale of the property for at least three months. There are many factors to take into consideration on the future disposition of this matter, including the need for dollars to support Real Property work, including on First Nations property in BC and elsewhere.

Deb Bowman mentioned that one of the reasons for the offers could be the need for developers to build a fishing resort. Mary May noted that one of the offers mentioned that they would update the manse; the other mentioned they would use the property for a condominium development.

The question was raised if there was still a congregation at Bamfield. At the moment the congregation has disbanded. Deb mentions that a delay would raise the question of liability for the people on the land. We cannot delay indefinitely.

Mary May will advise the two interested buyers when we are ready to put the Bamfield property back on the market. Dale Gillard is the Presbytery contact and will be monitoring the bank account of the property. Mary May to monitor the situation and inform Dale of the any new developments.

The Moderator left the call; Peter Short assumed the role of chair.
